The Senior Football Team (during basically a re-building year) enjoyed an extremely successful season finishing with a record of 4 wins and 4 losses during the regular season. Coupled with their 2 wins during the playoffs, their output of 6 wins doubled their production of last year.

The highlights of the year included getting to a 2-0 start after 2 games, beating Louis St. Laurent 36-0 and McNally 24-7 and winning two playoff games for the 3rd Division Championship.

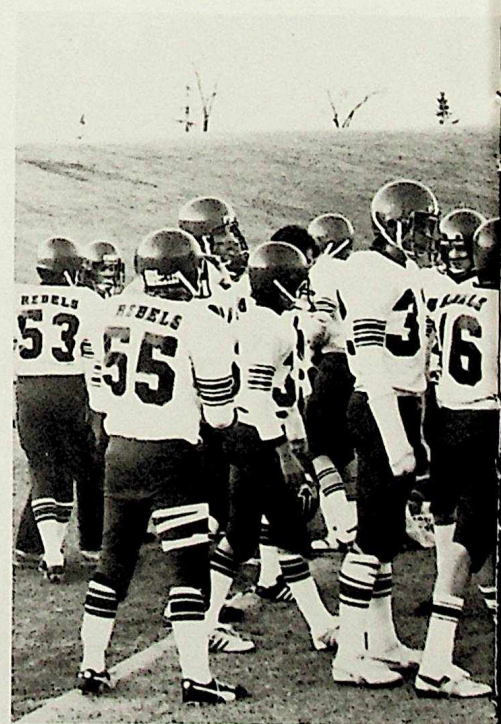

Both playoff games were close. In the first semi-final game against Lazerte, JP scored a TD with about three minutes left to play to defeat the Voyagers by a score of 12-8. In the final game against Eastglen, JP scored a TD with about one minute left to defeat them 15-9, giving JP the 3rd Division.

Congratulations to all the players on their fantastic efforts and achievements. Also special thanks to the "super fans" which included numerous parents who always provided us with support and incentive. Lastly, a special thanks to the Assistant Coaches - Rick Baker, Wayne Gunn, Greg Lang, and Bob Kilgannon, whose contributions are too many to mention.

It has been a great privilege to be associated with such a class bunch of individuals.

Thank you, Head Coach, Mr. Zelant.

By winning the semi-finals playoff 21-10 over St. Joes at Coronation, the Juniors were able to advance to the city finals. In one of the finest Junior games ever played, they lost a seesaw battle to Austin O'Brien 37-27 at Clarke Stadium to place second in the Second Division.

With only one grade 12 on the team, the senior girls were very competitive in the premier League. A number of games were lost by five or less points, as they finished with a 5 win - 13 loss league record. The team participated in the Capher and Rimbey tournaments. Individual skills and team work showed great improvement, so watch for the Rebels next year.

In league play, the Rebels finished with a 12 won - 6 loss, record which was quite impressive considering they stood 3 and 5 after the first eight games. Unfortunately, a loss in the first game of the playoffs eliminated the boys from further competition.

The highlight of the season was an exciting tournament win at Shawnigan Lake, Vancouver Island. The Rebels defeated Duncan, B.C. in overtime for the victory in the eight team tournament. Our leading scorer throughout the season, Dean Meyer, was selected to the All Star Team while Ray Wiebe was honoured with the Most Valuable Player Award.

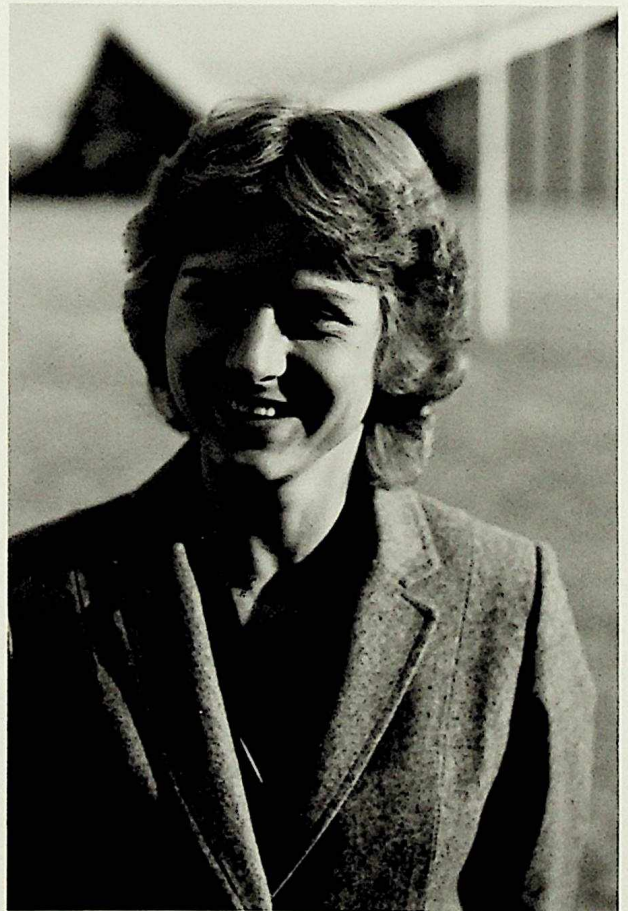

Besides Meyer, only two other players are graduating this year: Both Jay Shore and Pat Forrest worked extremely hard on their skills and are to be congratulated on their contribution to the basketball program here at Jasper Place.

The 1982 edition of Junior Rebel Volleyball team completed their season in fourth place in the City Conference.

As for their regular season, they were at the top of their division and worked hard to win the city quarter finals by defeating Louis St. Laurent. The Rebels started strong by going through the first round of Division 2 undefeated at 5-0. The team then spent a round in Division 1 (0-4) and ended back in Division 2 at 2-2 in matches won-lost. Injuries to key players such as Russ Ray and Grant Campbell "hurt" and may have contributed to the mid-season inconsistency.

Based on the final placing in Division 2, post-season play meant participating in the city Conference play-offs where we beat Queen Elizabeth and Archbishop Jordon to bring home the City Conference Championship.

The team also participated in weekend tournaments at Wetaskiwin, Red Deer, and the U. of A. where the win-loss records were 4-6, 4-4, and 5-3 respectively.

Grant Campbell and Andy Bobey represented the Rebels in the annual All-City Volleyball match hosted by NAIT.

The club has three tables in good condition so all members present were able to play several times each day. Club sponsors were T. Farion, S. Gentles and J. Wampler.

Drama

"GREASE", the first of J.P.'s annual Spring musicals, played to a sellout crowd, and was seen by over 1,000 people during the run. "GREASE" was not just a show, but a warm and rewarding experience. Teachers and students formed a company that bonded together to see the show through to a successful conclusion after only six weeks of rehearsal.

Many of the ties that were formed during the rehearsals and run of "GREASE" blossomed into lasting friendships. This more than anything produced a warm and happy feeling in men.

French Field Trip

Spring in Paris was the highlight of the year for 18 J.P. French students and chaperones participating in this delightful trip. The magnificent sights in the "City of Light" left the students in awe as they gazed speechlessly at "La Tour Eiffel, Place de la Concorde, Notre Dame and Arc de Triumphe," floated leisurely down the majestic Seine on "a Bateau mouche," strolled down the renowned "Champs-Elysees," and Bohemian Latin Quarter, haggled over prices at the Marche aux Puces" and savoured the sights, sounds and smells of the quaint shops bordering narrow cobble-stoned streets.

Nice presented the students with an unique experience, a little 'spiced slice' of life in France, as they were billeted with French families. They were treated to exotic foods, tours and much warm hospitality.

Sightseeing included medieval villages, castles, perfume factories, the municipality of Monaco, French High Schools and even a day-long excursion to Italy.

18 tired ecstatic students returned on April 2, ready to take up their daily routine, but with a difference. The travellers returned with a great store of knowledge and experience that has made them more aware not only of differences, but of similarities in their fellow man.

Inter-School Christian Fellowship (ISCF), has Christianity as its theme. The club seeks the answers to questions such as: Is there a purpose for my life on Earth? How does the Bible apply to my life? This search involves various activities.

In school, the group engages in such activities as bible studies, speakers, films, debates and games. Out of school, ISCF conducts a very extensive camping program. This consists of horseback riding, rafting, repelling etc. and campfires at which time some of the deeper issues of life are discussed.

Rebel Press

The Rebel Press is the newspaper club of the school and as such it provides a media by which students may comment, report or discuss issues of concern to the student body. It provides the young writer, photographer, or artist a means of displaying and practicing his talents.

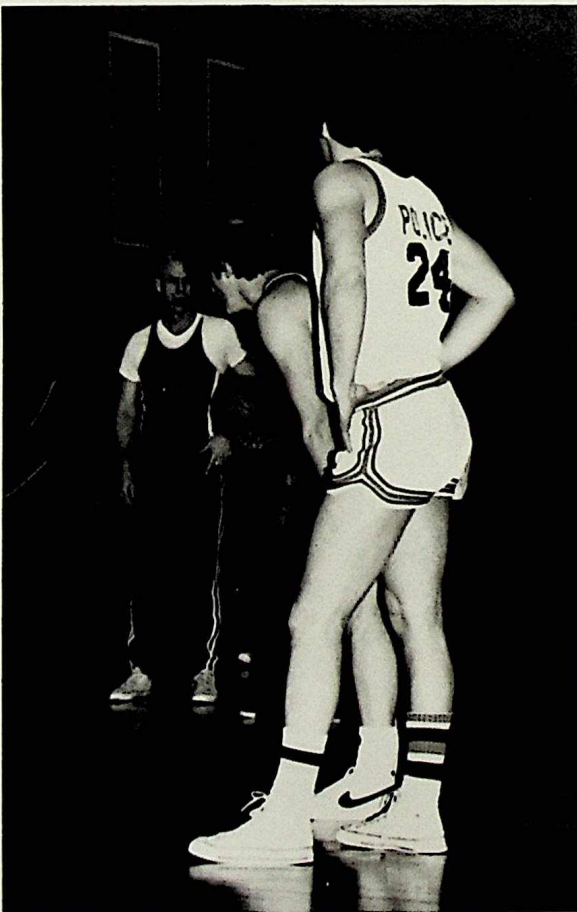

The school newspaper is a production that requires the co-operation and support of several areas. First and foremost are the students who do the writing, layout and planning. Typesetting is done by Office Procedures students and the and the printing or presswork is done by the students in Graphic Arts.

This year has been a banner year for Jasper Place Composite. With the increase in support from the students as well as the faculty, especially Mr. Maskell, made vast steps forward. We improved the image of the school in the community and organized activities for the students.

This has been a busy year for Student Council. September brought the first assemblies of the year, a football pep rally and elections for grade representatives.

Rock and roll Day featured "Wolfman Jack" at a noon dance in October. The Halloween dance with "The Answers" brought out the wildest and weirdest costumes.

Christmas was celebrated at J.P. with the annual door decorating event, a HO-HO contest and a chance for people to have pictures taken with Santa (thanks Mr. Derechy!)

The Community Supper was held on St. Patrick's Day (spaghetti was served!). A great many teachers waited on tables and Mr. Sjolie acted as maitre de. March also saw the Spring Dance featuring "FOOTLOOSE". Hat day brought out an assortment of headgear and a pep rally introduced the track and field season.

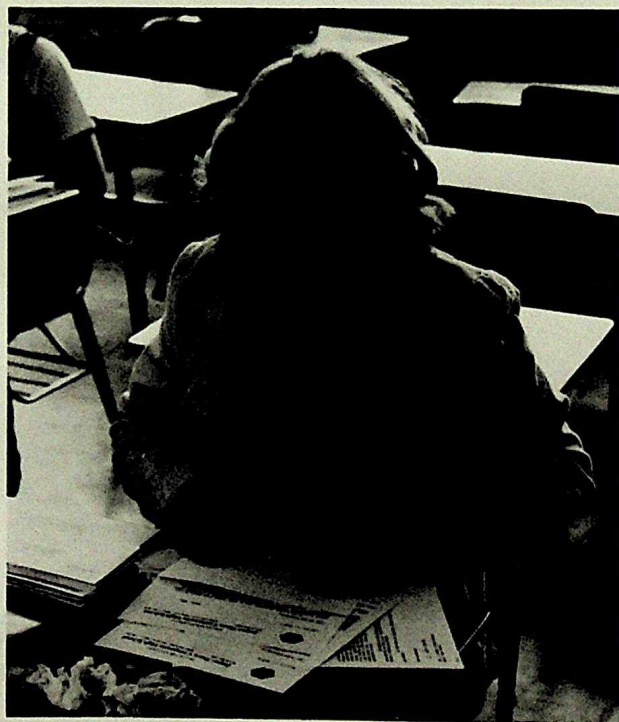

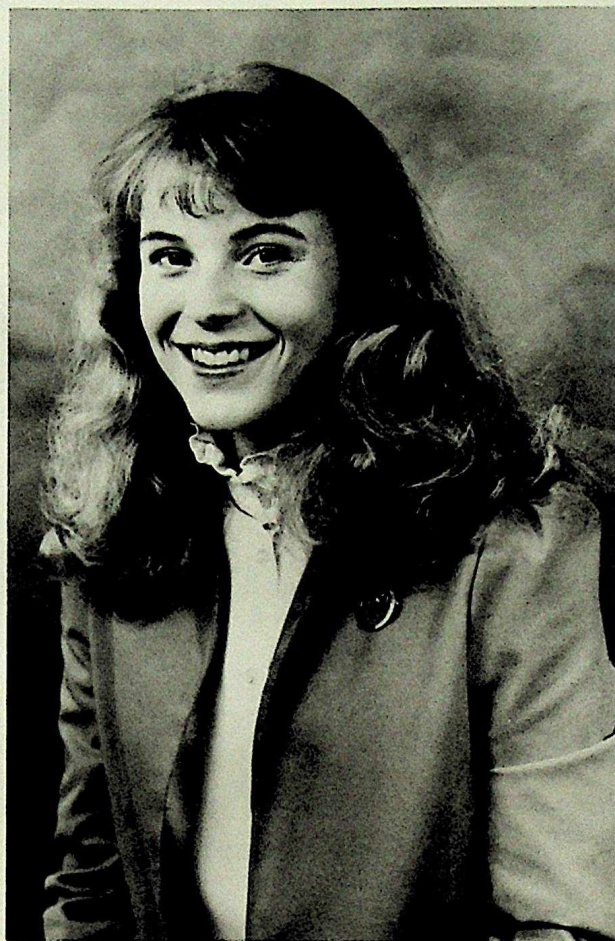

May gives us the annual Blood Donor Clinic and the Red Cup Award. Western Day features a noon dance and a pancake breakfast. Finally, Student Union elections bring the busy year to a close.

Senior Class Council

Participating in the organization of Senior Class night has given me some valuable insights into just how much work is involved in the planning of such events. I now know the meaning of group cooperation, and how important it is for people to work together to get things accomplished. The small, but hard working group of Senior Class members have been of such tremendous help in planning to make Senior Class Night '82 a success. Special appreciation goes out to Cynthia Brown, who was in charge of the program committee, Gina Ferry, the vice-president, Leslea Vinet, our banquet committee leader, Heather Burton, in charge of booking our band, and Allison Tibbs, our secretary treasurer. Mrs. Sawyer was really in charge of everything, and did a terrific job in showing us how to organize a formal evening such as this.

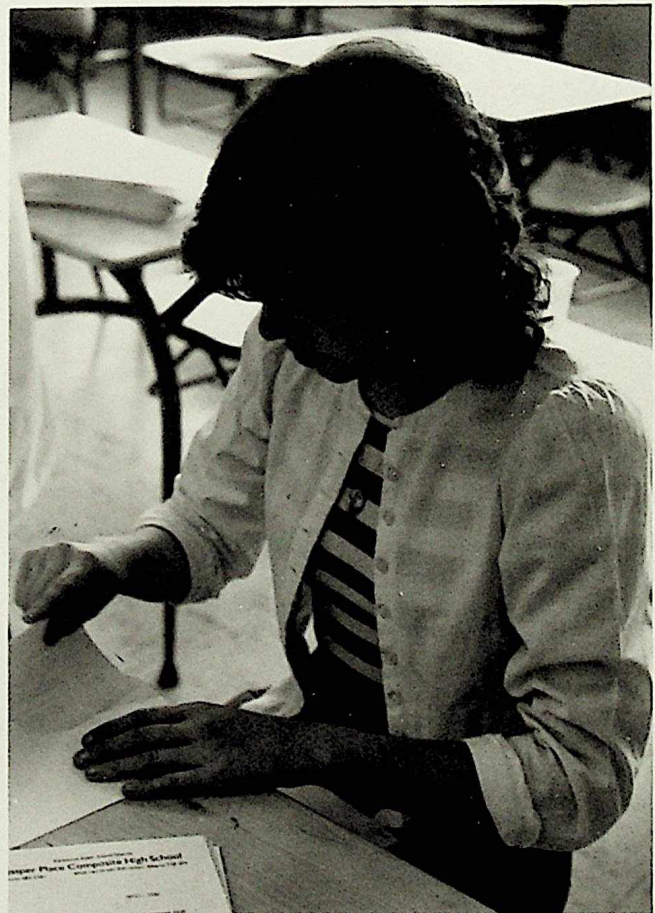

I'd just like to send a message out to the grade ten and eleven students, and that is: when it comes time for your graduation, get involved. For many people, it will be your only graduation, so get involved, and feel the sense of accomplishment that comes from being part of a group organization to make an event, YOUR event, a success. It's worth it!

INSPIRATION

Principal's Message

The Yearbook serves as an ^{visual} illustrated record of the events of the school year. It seems to capture the spirit, the very essence of the school. Years from now, it will continue to be a source of pleasant memory to students and staff alike. The photos, facts and memories in this book will be your stepping stones to happy reminiscence.

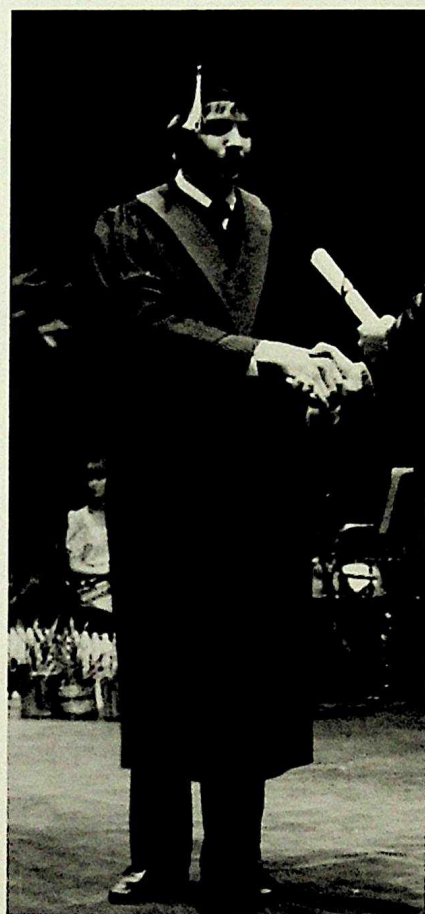

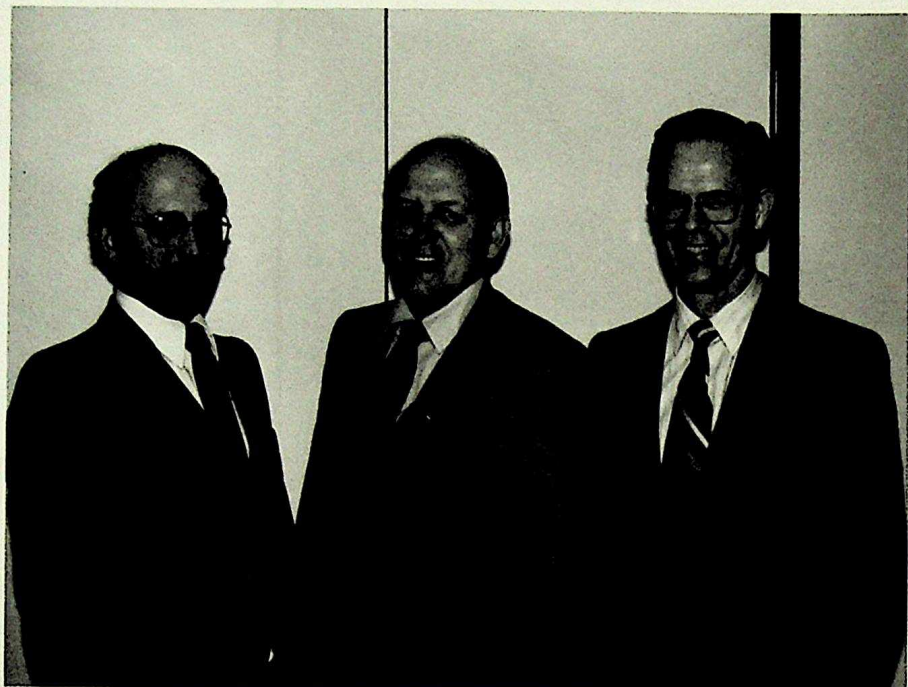

I commend the yearbook staff for the amount of work and the dedication to excellence that went into its preparation. I am certain you must find satisfaction and justifiable pride in your part in this undertaking.

To the graduating students, may your memories of Jasper Place be pleasant ones and may your futures be filled with happiness and success.

FLIGHT

The dream began in minds of men long dead,
Who closed their searching eyes to find a way
Of shaking free the earthly bonds that wed
Them to the ground. With borrowed patterns, they Caressed eternal sky with frozen wings.
Persuading weary winds to change their flow.
Through time their boisterous cry of triumph rings
In thoughts of those deprived who walk below.
So fly the mocking birds of modern age,
Who sings no songs, possess no empty bones,
And live not in the air but in a cage,
There to preen their feathers hard as stones.
Yet, never will these birds be truly free -
For chained to earth and form they'll always be.

THE DYING FLAME

The candle stands completely lonely now.
The vat of wax had made it feel secure.
It felt it could improve the world somehow,
Would it succeed at this, it was not sure.
As it burns its heart is warmed once more.
It sheds a tear which trickles down its face.
Remembering home its emotions soar.
It recollects its families embrace.
Smoke rises from its painful dying place.
It screams out through its silent flickering flame.
It must remain steadfast on its base,
If it is to return from whence it came.
It shines with brilliance until its wick bends,
Its' soul being released, as its life ends.

THOUGHTS ON A SONNET

The friendly fly,
The able bee,
The winsome wasp are grand;

And the caterpillar's
Lovely when it
Nestles in your hand.

But hums and honey,
Hives and stings
Will pass without a trace;

If you want a sonnet
Don't ask a hornet -
You need the human race.

DISSATISFACTION

It's a plastic, a synthetic habitat.
It's throw-away, nothing is made to last.
I dread the sad day, is it so near? that
Cotton and wool will be things of the past.
I love antiques, white linen and fine lace,
And heavy china jugs, made with such care.
Or hard-wood furniture, that once did grace
Fine parlors. These treasures are now so rare.
Now we have vinyl, plastic, rayon, and
Wood finished veneer, all made by machine.
There now are so few things left made by hand,
How I miss where my ancestors have been!
But it's time to go - Star Trek starts at ten!
To live the future! If I lived then ...

THE FRIENDLY GIANT OF THE NIGHT

Orion, belted giant of the night,
Astride the sky, your dagger hilt ablaze,
So often have you met my searching gaze,
And brought me courage by your steady light.

Serenity and peace come from the sight
Of your benevolence, above the maze
Of man-made brilliance. Through these earthly ways
You guide my foot-steps with your quiet might.

For as a child I learned to know you well,
To court the diamonds in your dagger's length,
To look for you, when in the dark I felt
Assailed by lurking terrors - then your spell

Reached down, and wrapped me round with warming strength
My gentle giant of the shining jewelled belt.

Michelle Bamford

EAT ME AND DIE

Oh, who are these that run about the maze,
Whose eyes search up and down, that way and this,
Who chase the mouth devouring in a craze,
But run away when blue on them is fixed.
The mouth will get them in time and eat them.
Their eyes return back home toward the lot.
Then reincarnate and search out again,
The mouth who gobbles up all of the dots.
Blinky, Speedy, these are names of two,
That continuously perform this chore;
Dinky, Pinky, these are the other crew,
Who do the same affair, but nothing more.
This thing is a pacman, and quite funny,
It eats more than anything, your money.

Ron Sadesky

S
E STOPPING BY WOODS ON A SNOWY EVENING

Whose woods these are I think I know.
His house is in the village though;
He will not see me stopping here
To watch his woods fill up with snow.

My little horse must think it queer
To stop without a farmhouse near
Between the woods and frozen lake
The darkest evening of the year.

He gives his harness bells a shake
To ask if there is some mistake.
The only other sound's the sweep
Of easy wind and downy flake.

The woods are lovely, dark and deep.
But I have promises to keep,
And miles to go before I sleep.
And miles to go before I sleep.

Robert Frost

It's smooth sensuous,
it gives the feeling of floating forever as you wind down the run.
It's like paradise on earth.

STAIRWAY TO HEAVEN

There's a lady who's sure all that glitters is gold
and she's buying a stairway to heaven.
When she gets there she knows
if the stores are all closed with a word she can get what she came for Ooh, Ooh
and she's buying a stairway to heaven.
There's a sign on the wall
but she wants to be sure
'cause you know
sometimes words have two meanings.
In a tree by the brook
there's a song bird who sings, sometimes all of our thoughts are misgiven.
Ooh, it makes me wonder,
The piper's calling you to join him,
Dear lady can you hear the wind blow and did you know
your stairway lies on the whispering wind.
And as we wind on down the road
our shadows taller than our soul.
There walks a lady we all know who shines white light and wants to show how ev'rything still turns to gold.
And if you listen very hard
the tune will come to you at last.
When all are one and one is all
to be a rock and not to roll.
And she's buying a stairway to heaven.

Jimmy Page and Robert Plant

THE TABLES TURNED AN EVENING SCENE ON THE SAME SUBJECT

Up! Up! my Friend, and quit your books;
Or surely you'll grow double:
Up! Up! my Friend, and clear your looks;
Why all this toil and trouble?

The sun, above the mountain's head,
A freshening lustre mellow
Through all the long green fields has spread,
His first sweet evening yellow.

Books! 'tis a dull and endless strife:
Come, hear the woodland linnet,
How sweet his music! on my life,
There's more of wisdom in it.

And hark! how blithe the throstle sings!
He, too, is no mean preacher:
Come forth into the light of things,
Let Nature be your Teacher.

She has a world of ready wealth,
Our minds and hearts to bless -
Spontaneous wisdom breathed by health,
Truth breathed by cheerfulness.

One impulse from a vernal wood
May teach you more of man,
Of moral evil and of good,
Than all the sages can.

Sweet is the lore which Nature brings;
Our meddling intellect
Mis-shapes the beauteous forms of things: -
We murder to dissect.

Enough of Science and of Art;
Close up those barren leaves;
Come forth, and bring with you a heart
That watches and receives.

The city of Edmonton changed a great deal during this school year. In September, phase one of the West Edmonton Mall was completed and the mall opened its doors.

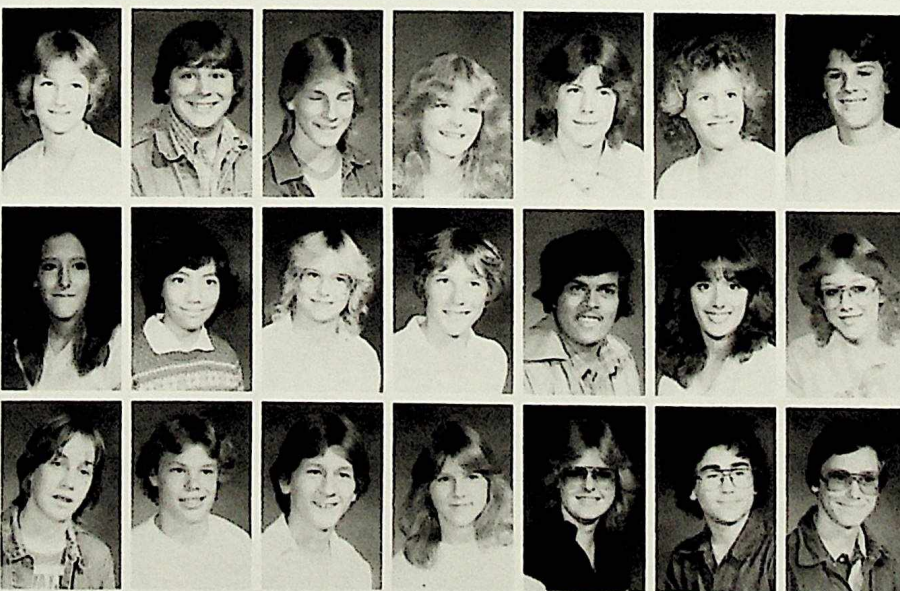

Near to the time Jasper Place Composite closed its doors to the south front wing of the school, formerly the English wing. As a result of lowered enrollment some teachers left the school.

Also the semester system underwent a change and took on a day one, day two form. A new principal arrived at the school and is planning for more changes in the future. In the first semester the school purchased 16 PET computers and 2 printers. These brought a change in the course selection as well as a chance to play computer games, and learn how to work the computers. And speaking of changes, you wouldn't believe how often we've changed this feature to fit the space.

Beauty Culture is a course open to all students of the school. It leads into business training in the ways of skin care, hair-styling and manicures. One student commented "it's a great class but with all the hair sets that we did I found it surprisingly difficult compared to what I had thought it would be ... I had a hard time completing some of the sets (and getting a good mark)." Nevertheless the student recommended the class.

Not only do the students get a chance to work on paying customers (students and others), but they also learn about hair, nails and skin. The course also helps them to improve themselves. It is a challenging class but the rewards are great. And at least when you get frustrated you can beat up the mannequin and not your friend, customer or teacher.

October 31, 12:01 a.m. marks the beginning of twenty-four hours filled with ghosting, ghouling and goblins. Walking down the street it is no strange thing to be accosted by twelve mad vampires or chased a couple of blocks by a deranged werewolf. J.P. entered right into the 'spirit' of things this year with pumpkin carving and scarecrow stuffing contests. Mr. Derechy's marketing class took first prize with 'A Spaced Out Halloween' but 'The Great White North' and 'The Guillotine' entries put up a good fight by placing second and third respectively. In the evening, the school dance took place and whether the participants had thrown a costume together that night or spent two-three weeks planning it, the effect was well worth seeing.

Aw, take off.

Good day eh, and our topic for today is the Great White North, or like, Bob and Doug McKenzie (Rick Moranis and Dave Thomas). How's it going, eh?

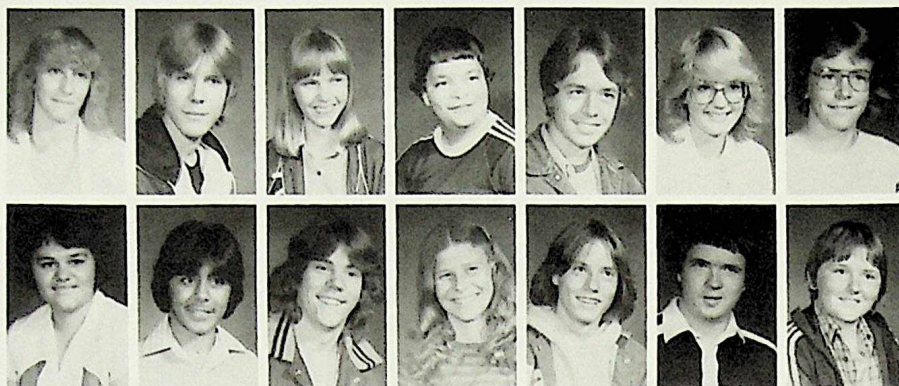

Originally a one minute 'filler', the 'Great White North' has made SCTV one of the most popular comedy shows of the year.

On the set, Bob and Doug wear their "Canadian" touques (Doug wears ear muffs too - beauty eh!) and the show is off to its Coo roo coo coo coo ... call of the loons start. The rest of the show is usually spent drinking beer, eh, and cook'n backbacon on the coleman stove. Looking for "suitable topics" also consumes a great deal of their time.

SCTV was the first Canadian show to do so well in the U.S. and although there is a small percentage of people who don't like the stereotype, the majority of Canadians are able to sit back and laugh at the fact that not only do Bob and Doug have their own platinum record but also have a "Daily Hoser" paper and a dog called hosehead.

As you may have just noticed, an assortment of Grade Ten students have not appeared earlier in this section. We are sorry to have had this happen, and if you are one of these students, you have not been forgotten.

We have included these individuals in a continuation of this section. So, if you have been left out of this addition you were probably moved up, into the Grade Eleven portion. Which is a much easier way of going up a grade than by getting a good report card.

This world is troublesome,
it always has been,
But drugs do not help it.
You'll see what I mean.
I'll tell you they're deadly.
It won't mean a thing.
As long as you love still to hear the birds sing.

But think of a person
with troubles galore.
Next day they'll be dragging his body ashore.

He turned to drugs
thinking "That's a solution."
His body was added
to water pollution.

This is just a story,
in some cases true,
But drugs do not help
the unhappy or blue.

Walking through the school halls, it becomes increasingly clear that a change has taken place. The walls have somehow 'come to life' thanks to our Art students. Students from Art 20, and some Art 30's, took time to create scenes along the halls and various other areas in the building. The most well known are the skier (stairway), and the sports' figures (center gym). The students worked on their mural projects on Fridays in class time so it was not uncommon to see a student at work (perched precariously on a scaffolding) on your way to class. Sights like this shall hopefully continue to appear with student cooperation and interest.

I work up an appetite!

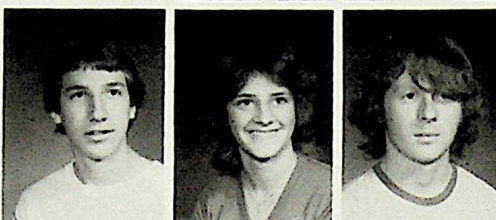

More than half of the student population, attending this school, eat their lunches at the school. This means that they either eat in the cafeteria or bring bag lunches.

The bag lunch means that the students must make their lunch the day before. And so we have the skill of making a lunch during a T.V. commercial break.

1. Select a long commercial, the Brick Warehouse or government funded commercials are the best.
2. Turn the volume up loud so you can hear when the show returns.
3. Run to the kitchen, grab a paper bag and the glad wrap or waxpaper or whatever, with one hand.

4. At the same time grab the bread, butter, etc. with the other hand.
5. Don't use a knife, food slips right off them and they take too long to wash. You can use your finger instead, it's faster and you can lick your finger.
6. Slap the stuff on the bread, stick the pieces together and rip them in half.
7. Cover in gladwrap and huck into the bag.
8. Grab an apple and cookies and huck into the bag.
9. Put bag in fridge and return to the T.V.
10. Lick your fingers clean, and turn the sound down.

The Blood Donor Clinic held on the seventh of May was a great success, with one hundred eighty-five people giving blood in the east gym. A donor had to be at least 18 or older to give blood, or 17 with a note. People left the gym with, not only a feeling of bravery and pride, but also with a red cross pin, a cookie and a coke. Thanks is extended to all those who came out and gave blood.

1981 marks the year that the Rubik's Cube really caught on, although it has been around for three years. Since that time other variations have been created such as the ball cube, the ten-sided octogon barrel and the fourteen-sided diamond cube. Unrelated to the cube, but just as frustrating, is the four-sided pyramid.

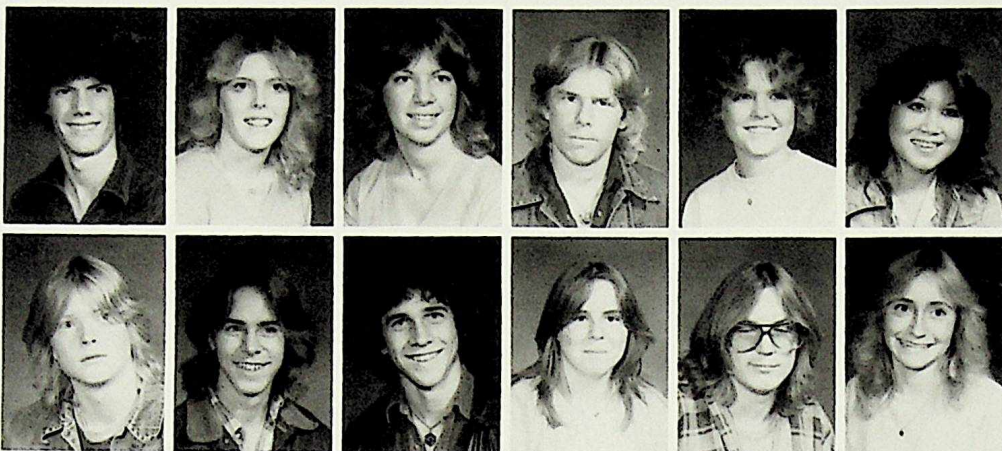

Most of the students who try to solve the cube end up with one of the 43.2 quintillion positions, but the school does hold its share of students who can complete most or all of these puzzles. Proven to our witness are Grade Twelves; Don B., Bill F., Donna M., Brenda N. and Cathie P.

Other than the cube, another 'game' increased its' popularity during the year. It is a fantasy game known as Dungeons and Dragons.

The game makes use of some unusual dice ranging from the 4-sided to the 20-sided die. D and D brings back some mythical creatures and undead creatures.

In the game there are doors which appear to be walls, they are called secret doors and would be better suited for classrooms. Zombies, which can be seen frequently in the school, also exist in the game.

The record for the longest game, lasted 209 hours and 42 minutes.

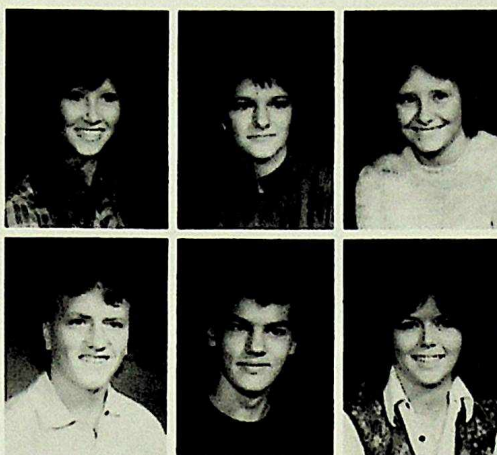

A two-headed monster.

Remember those days so many years ago in Elementary School when one student would call "I spy with my little eye something that is green and lumpy" and the answer was "a teacher". But now the story goes "I spy with my big eye something that is hot pink and lumpy" and the second person answers "a student in Mr. Sjolies class".

The eyes are very important, after all, without eyes how can a person do their homework, or better yet, watch T.V. When exam time comes, almost every student longs to be a spider with eight eyes to conveniently look around at people's watches to find the time.

When October came this year, a few students waited and watched for a snowfall. When November came, more students waited and watched for the snow. So by the time December came, even more students watched and waited for snow, and at last - SNOW!

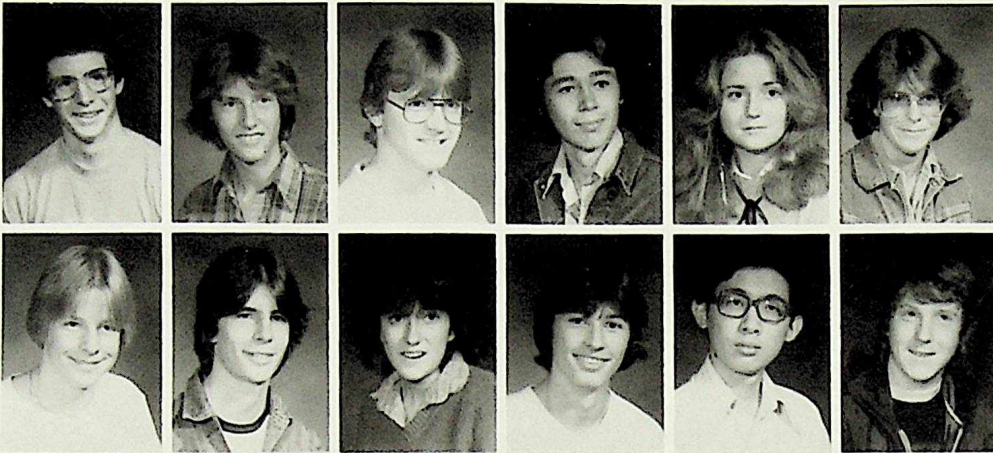

Newscasters say we had a 'mild' winter because there were very few severe storms in the city. This offered students and teachers a lot of opportunities to go skiing, except in March, when the worst storm hit.

Which brings us to our next non-sense paragraph.

When late February came this year a couple of students watched and waited for signs of a thaw. When March rolled in, a few more students watched and waited for a thaw. When April came, many (all) of the students, and teachers, watched and waited (not for the great pumpkin but) for the thaw, and guess what, the first sign of spring appeared! The sign? MUD!

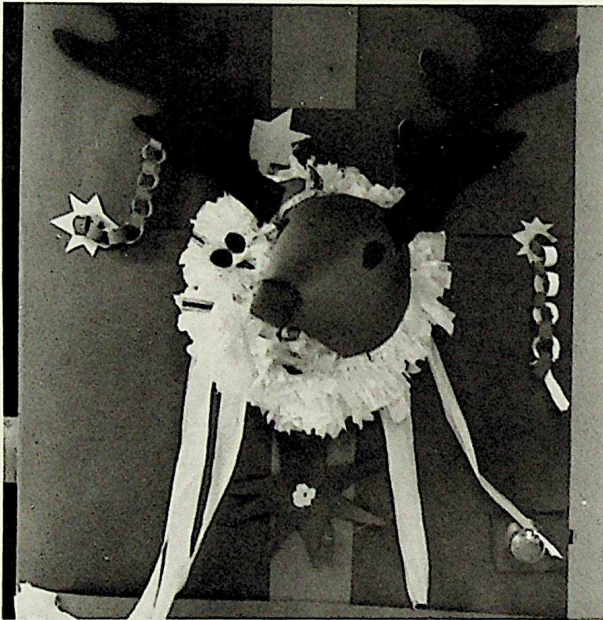

It snowed again on May 3rd ...

Just as music changes every year, each group of students brings in individuals with new ideas and a different outlook on life. Because many people don't really READ their yearbook until after they leave the school, the grade twelve section emphasizes what the students found important during the year dealing with anything from junk food to their future plans.

The ideas belong to the students and were compiled from the Senior Class Survey so if in twenty years you find that you want to return (in mind at least) to 1981-82, flip through the pages and reminisce on "the way you were".

Every person interprets art differently. This is not to say that the drawing to the right is art, but it is safe to say that it is different and the variety of comments on the survey proved this. Most common of the replies said that it resembled the ocean bottom. A few students claimed it looked like a drawing done by an Art 10 student. It was classified as anything from a Biology 30 digestion film, to an angry teacher. Other descriptions were: a corn field; a student whose name we cannot mention; this survey; a bird and a rabbit; lunch; the economy; and of course - unfinished homework from two weeks ago.

Along with the Senior Class survey, another survey went out. This one went to thirty of the forty guys voted best looking in the school. This survey asked them what they look for in their girlfriends.

A sense of humour is a plus, as long as it isn't enough to make the guy look like a fool.

If the girls just happens to have $100,000 to spend on her boyfriend and is a perfect '10', she has a good chance at a lasting relationship with most of the guys.

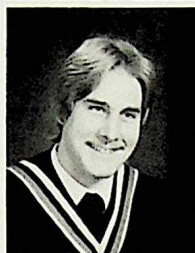

Twenty-five of the guys voted against noticeable make-up. Mostly if it has been plastered on so much that only a chisel can take it off. The guys claim that it is next to impossible to kiss a girl without their faces looking brown, or blue, or worse yet, they could become the Incredible Hulk.

But beauty is only skin deep, all but three guys preferred their girls not to be dumb.

When people move to a new neighbourhood they often leave their unwanted belongings behind. The same can be said for graduation. So we asked the senior class members what they were going to leave at school when they graduate.

After all, you can't take it with you, and as far as school goes, you don't want to.

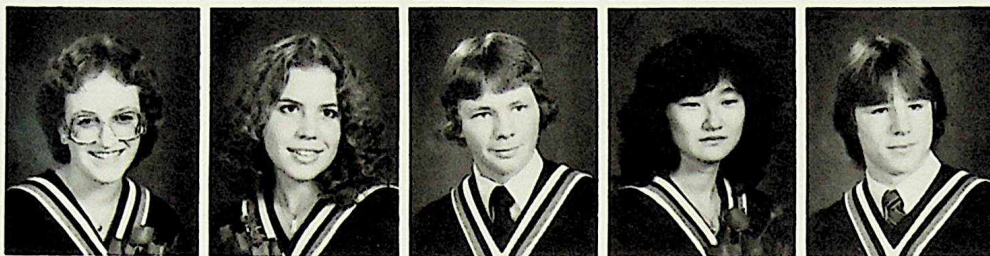

- my sanity
- only a wisp of hair
- my problems

- baggy eyes
- my knowledge
- a sweaty gym sock
- blood, sweat and tears
- my signature
- moldy bassoon reeds
- 500 lbs of dynamite
- a spiritual presence
- it will be hidden, and whomever finds it will have a good laugh
- piece of mind
- an empty locker (vandalized of course)
- all my books

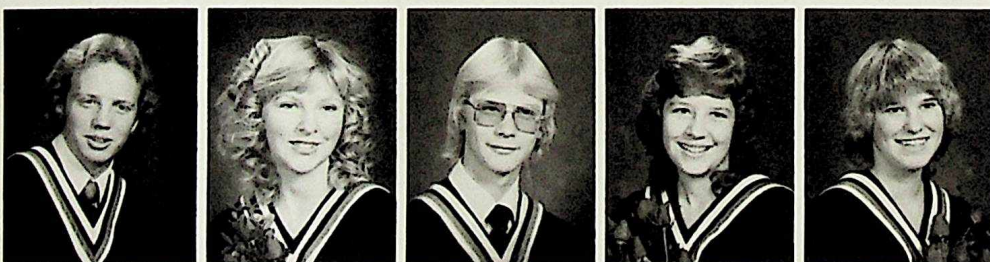

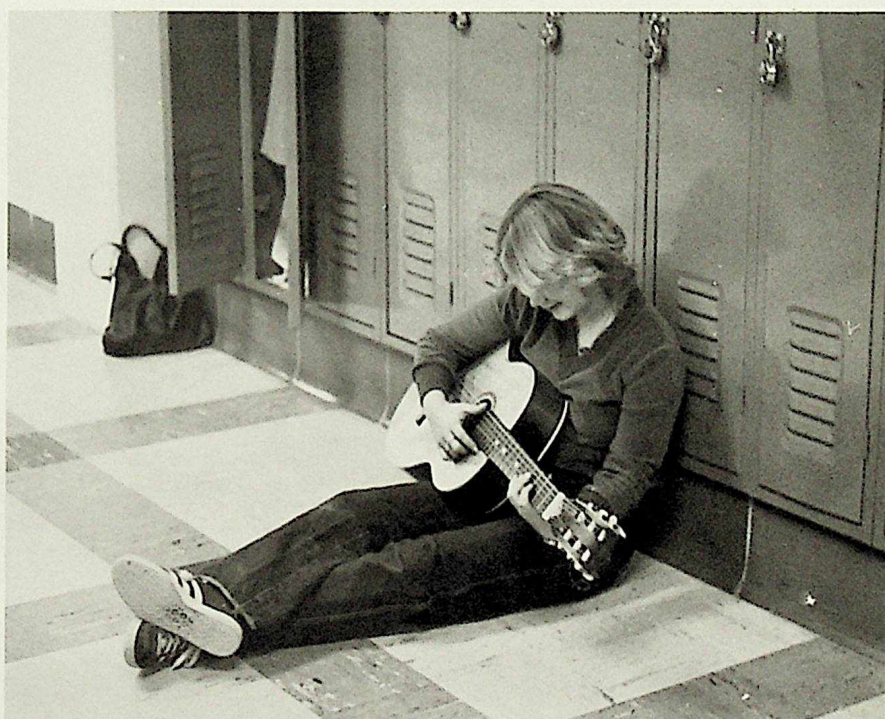

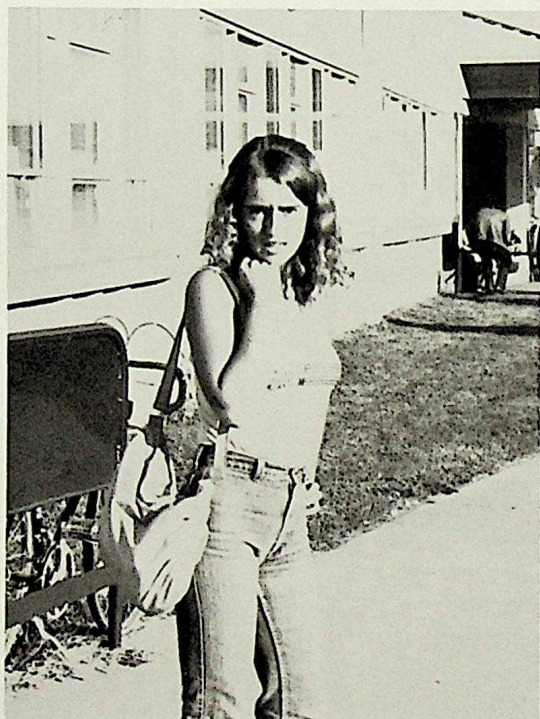

- a food locker
- a smell
- my worst memories
- my friends
- a bomb
- my ghost
- a few dented vending machines
- ulcers
- a bad image
- the teachers who couldn't care less (the ones who cared will be with me forever)

FAVORITE MOVIES

Movie theatres had a big uprise in business just before and after the Academy Awards. People just had to see all the nominated or winning motion pictures so they could be in on the gossip, and exclaim; "I saw that, it was a great show." or "I saw that, I thought it stunk!"

The best movie of the year, "Chariots of Fire", was not on any of the survey papers (most likely because the survey came out before the movie did). However, the winner of many other awards, "Raiders of the Lost Ark", was the favorite show to most of the students. "Stripes" and "Arthur" did fairly well. "Caligula" was stabbed out. We must say brang for "Frankenstein", grunt for "Quest for Fire" and of course, keep an eye out for "Porkys". But that's as far as we can go until the year 2000, which is when these movies will be censored enough for television viewing.

Almost every student has something going for after school and on the weekends, but after doing their homework first, of course, most everybody sits down and tunes into their favorite T.V. show. The most watched show is one that is broadcasted around and up to seventeen times a week, M*A*S*H. In fact, the show made 50% of the survey papers. It doesn't matter that the real Korean war ended years ago, and that many of the shows are repeats. M*A*S*H is number one.

Second City Television, commonly known as S.C.T.V., is the second favorite, and a large number of soap operas put together made third.

In these, the last pages of the Grade Twelve Section we wish to remind you of the memories, both good and bad, that many students had. So laugh and cry along with the individuals who put these remarks on their survey papers.

“Sehr Gut”

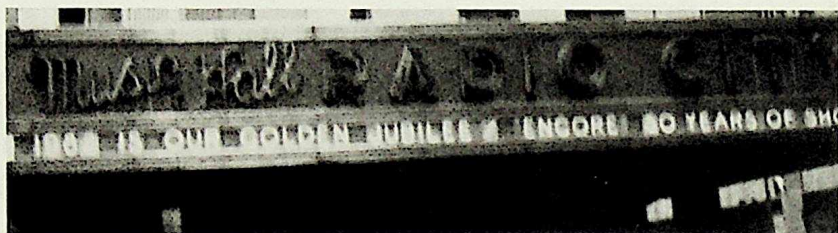

The JP Vienna tour band playing in the courtyard of the castle in Heidelberg.

The band competed at the Hofburg Palace in Vienna placing second.

New York Trip

We got off the plane at Lagardia Airport all excited to see the big city of New York, and it certainly was big. It took us about 45 minutes to get to the hotel. The next day we went on a city tour of Manhattan, including Chinatown, Upper and Lower Manhattan, the Statue of Liberty, and Harlem. The money we received from the school board enabled us to see the hair show. I gained entrance to three seminars. The first was Randy Rick and his styling team. The clothes were out of this world and the hair perfect. The dancing was an asset to the show.

Then we saw Graham Webb and his artistic team from London, who wanted to achieve the same effect as Randy Rick.

Tuesday, we just looked around at all the exhibits. It was a great learning experience all the way around. Shopping turned out to be very worthwhile. We went to the hilarious Broadway show "Sugar Babies" starring Mickey Rooney. I wouldn't have missed it for the world!

Linda Henderson

My trip to New York was the best time of my life. I was really sad to come back here. Everything is so exciting there. Just catching a cab is a thrill. The people are exciting and were all very nice and friendly.

The city tour practically gave me whiplash trying to see everything. We went through Chinatown to the Statue of Liberty. St. John's Gothic Cathedral was the most beautiful thing I've ever seen. We went through Harlem, and that was a real eye-opener. It was quite sad to see all that poverty.

All in all, I absolutely loved New York and would still be there if I could have found a job.

Every year JP students receive a yearbook but the mysteries of what lies beyond the black bound cover remains known to only a VERY select few. These brilliant minds are able to start with no more than a few layout mats and a couple hundred copy sheets and by the end of the year (plus or minus a few months) they have (inevitably) created a masterpiece.

The staff of the '82 Echo would like to thank 'Misty the Cat' for keeping guard and a most profound thanks to our yearbook advisor for putting in so much time and effort (that is Mr. Phelps for those who don't know).

Thanks also to the school for footing the bill for all our free lunches (mmm, mmm, good) and Good Luck to Ted Allen on next year's yearbook (Succer).

On behalf of the yearbook staff I would like to extend to you our thanks for your patience and cooperation in the process of forming this book.

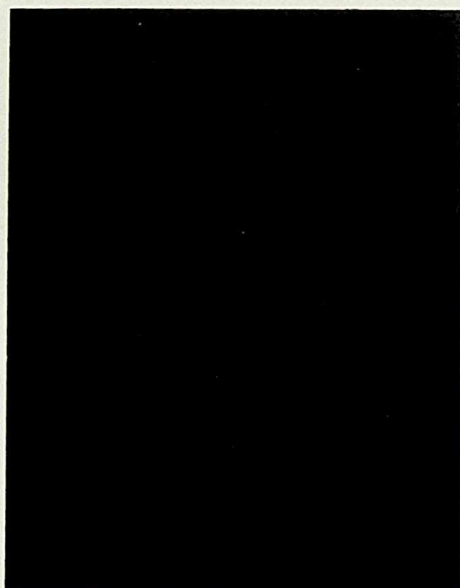

A special thank you is extended to Corinne Bjorge and Brenda Nelson, without whose help, there would not have been a yearbook. Hopefully, in the 1982-1983 school year, students will be less apathetic and will come forward and make the yearbook more than a two person operation.

Our special thanks to Mrs. Lawless and her typing class, without whom we would have been in sad shape.

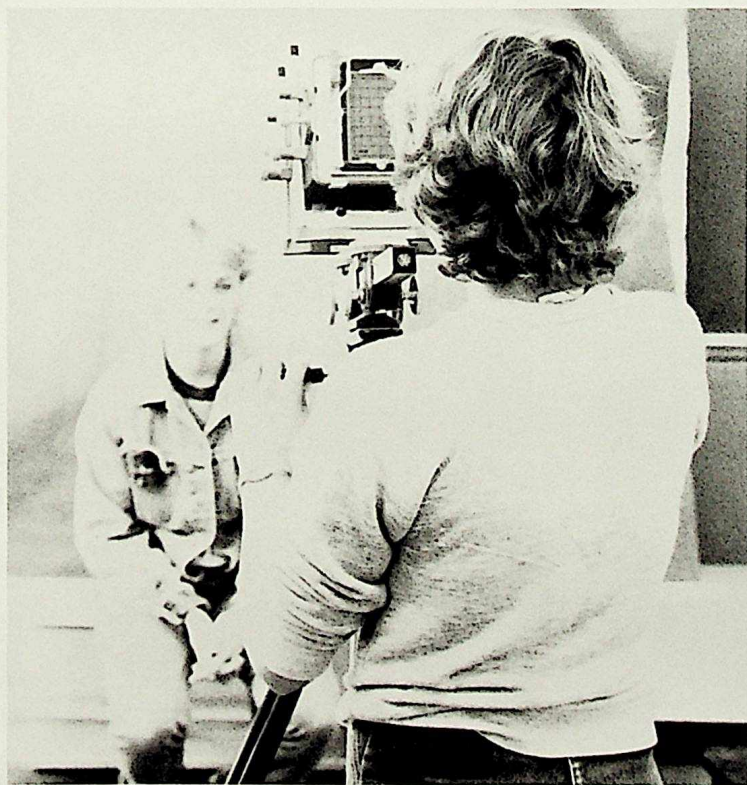

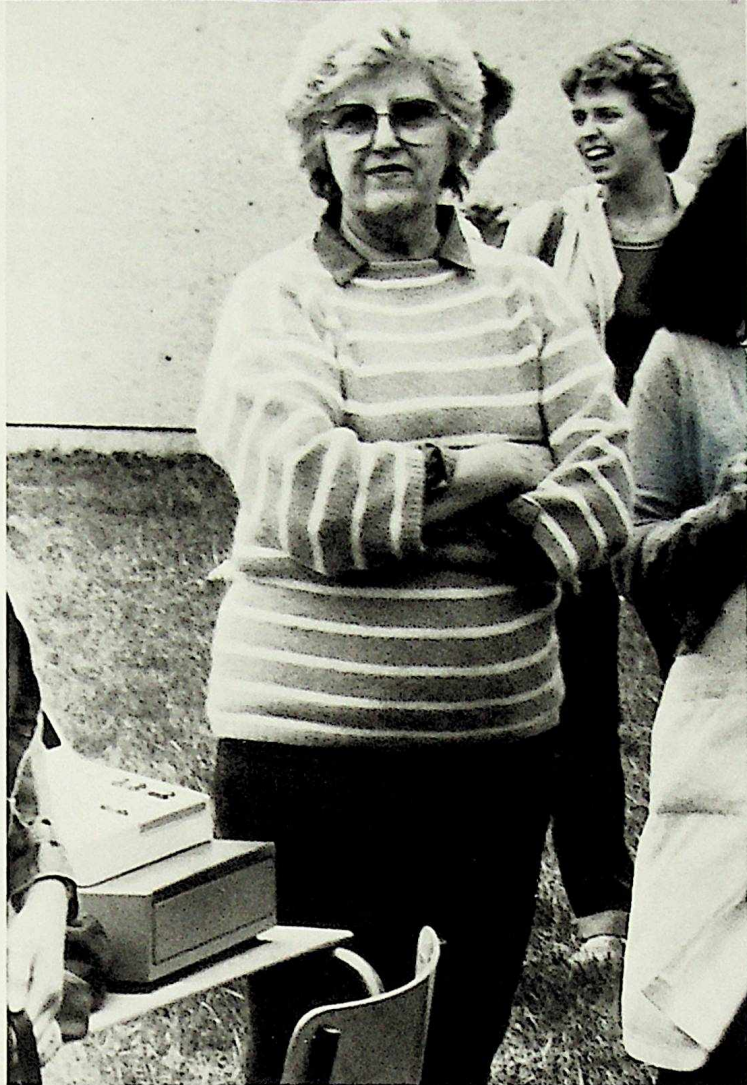

Finally, thank you to all those students and staff who put up with having a camera pushed in their faces by an assortment of people including, a usually irate yearbook advisor.

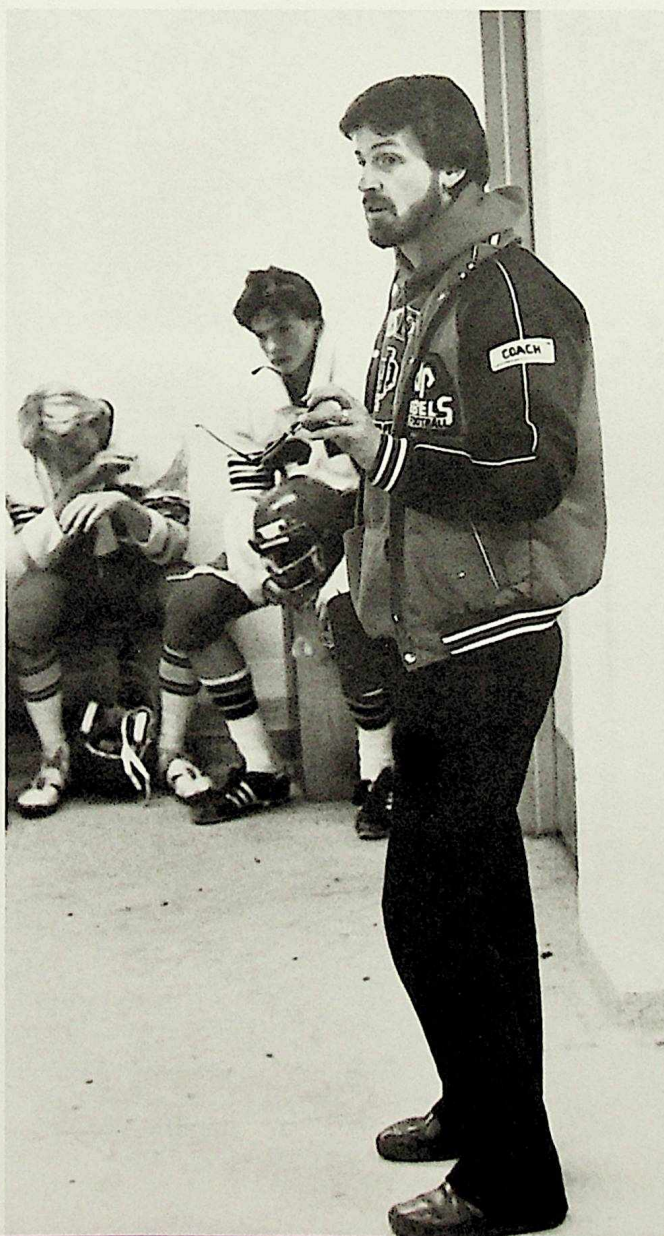

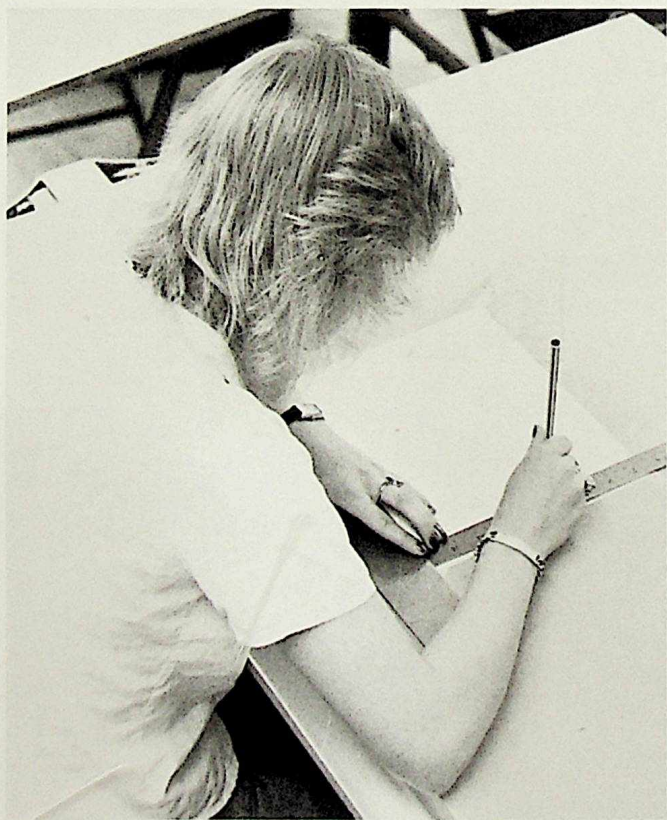

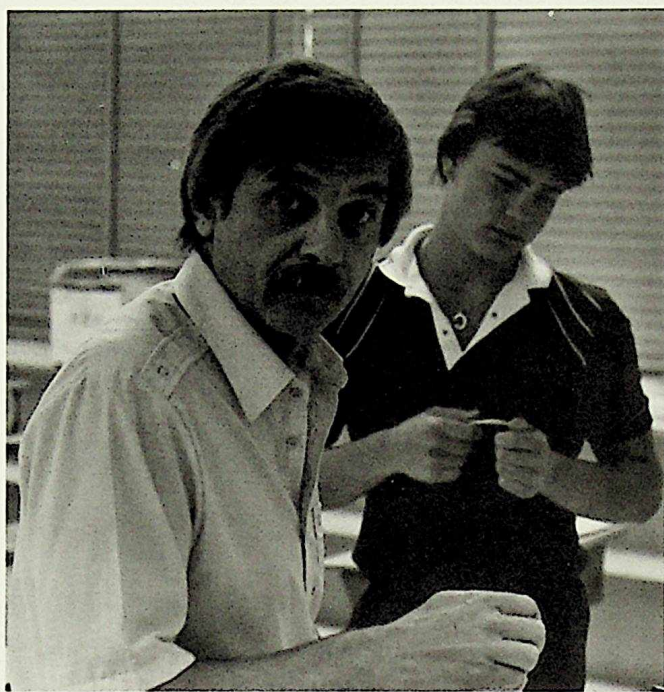

May you wander through the end product of our labors in years to come and have fond memories of days past.
